

Touch For Health® Kinesiology

Level 1 with Randall Gibson, M.Ed., LMT

What if there were simple muscle tests to ask the body what it needs? What part requires attention? Does a certain food strengthen or weaken me right now?

Now imagine being able to give your client a simple tune-up that addresses the major acupuncture meridians and related organs, emotional issues, posture, muscle tone, nutrition and nervous system functioning. After the session, you might teach them basic self-help methods to relieve pain, a technique to release emotional stress, or an exercise to improve concentration, coordination and balance.

You've just imagined Touch For Health®.
